MEMORANDUM FROM SEED-GROWERS LONDON OFFICE, 24, Mark Lane, E.C. (France) of 6" wist and for the packet of seeds of Helianthus Conticularis you have sent us! We will give it a careful hial and heport, if desired, results next autumn. Meanwhiles we beg leave to mention that the seed of This variety resembles very much that of our A. argophyllus; the latter seed is a little larger than That of A. Centiculario - our this may of our their having been gathered on cultivated plants, the At anyophyllus has come from Geras and we still call it Boleil Du bexas. The places where this species grows may not be very far from the other and bossibly are the two species closely allied. We enclose small samples of At. argophyllus in case you should wish to compare the two blands. Me are, oh Yours Jan Hhely Til morin knowier to the MISSOURI BOTANICAL copyright reserved
